BULLETS GREET A PARIS MOB AT THE JAIL

Attempt to Lynch Negro Is Resisted By Jailer Jos.
Farris

EUGENE HOUSTON KILLED INSTANTLY

Alleged Negro Assailant of White Woman Badly Injured

In a heroic effort to save the life of a negro prisoner, who had been placed in his care a short time previous, Jailer Joseph Farris, at about 3 o'clock, Saturday morning, put to rout a mob of about twenty-five men after killing one and perhaps badly wounding another.

At 11:30 o'clock Friday night, Beverly Johnson, a negro, claiming to have been from Illinois, who had previously been employed as a laborer on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, entered the home of Mr. Henry Meade, an engineer on the Frankfort & Cincinnati railroad, living on South Main street, and attacked Mrs. Meade, who, with her daughter, was asleep. Mr. Meade was awakened by the screams of his wife, and jumping from his bed, grabbed with the negro, wrestling a hatchet from his grasp, and striking him a number of times on the head, rendering him unconscious.

Mr. Meade telephoned for the police, his wife and daughter in the meantime standing guard over the negro, who showed signs of returning consciousness. Acting Chief of Police Geo. Judy and Patrolmen King and Elgin responded, and took the negro, badly wounded and bleeding, to the jail, where he was received by Jailer Farris, and given medical attention.

About 2:30 o'clock Jailer Farris was called to his office door, and on opening it found a crowd of men which he roughly estimated to be about twenty-five, standing on the porch and in the street. They wore handkerchiefs over the lower parts of their faces, and some had their faces blackened. Their leader came to the door and demanded the keys. Mr. Farris refused the demand, and the closest of the men grabbed with him in an effort to secure them. Mr. Farris put up a strong fight, and was knocked down and badly bruised. He succeeded in fighting the men off, when one of them pointed a pistol in his face. Mr. Farris grasped the weapon, just as the trigger was pulled, the hammer lacerating his thumb and forefinger.

Mrs. Farris, wife of the Jailer, held the mob at bay for a few minutes until she could place a revolver in her husband's hands. By this time the mob was beating and kicking the Jailer, who was on the floor. With his left hand Jailer Farris fired, the shot striking Eugene Houston in the right side and passing entirely through the body. He ran a short distance and fell dead. The Jailer fired again, and another man fell, but was picked up by his companions and taken away.

The mob scattered in every direction. The wounded man either made his way to the nearby bridge or was carried there, and was later found there dead and stripped of his uniform. Jailer Farris fired three shots and thinks another man was hit, as blood stains were found on the street going south.

The dead man was Eugene R. Houston, who was night foreman of the switching crew in the south yards, and who lived in Millersburg. He was familiarly known as "Old Timer," the title being given him on account of his long service in the employ of the L. & N.

His body was taken to the undertaking establishment of G. W. Davis and prepared for burial. It was taken to his home Saturday afternoon and was buried in Carlisle, Sunday.

Houston is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Insko. He is about 65 years of age, and had hitherto borne a good reputation. He and Jailer Farris were both members of the same lodge of Odd Fellows.

Jailer Farris feels deeply the result of the affair, but he is being upheld by the entire community for his heroism and devotion to duty.

It is said that the authorities have a clew to the identity of the other member of the mob who was wounded and that it is likely some interesting developments will follow.

A Paris business man, in commenting on the affair, said to the News reporter: "Some time ago when a young white man of this city was arrested and jailed on a charge of attempted assault, the same man, Houston, who was killed, came to me and suggested the formation of a mob to take the young fellow out and lynch him. I refused, of course, to become a party to the affair, and he departed with the remark: 'Well, I'll get him myself.' I told him as he went away, 'Old man, you had better

PARIS PEOPLE AT THE KENTUCKY SUMMER RESORTS

Oil Springs seems to be the favorite summer resort with Paris people lately. The Oil Springs correspondence in the Sunday Lexington Herald says:

"Miss Margaret Ardery, of Paris, went home Friday to attend the dance. She returned Saturday for an indefinite period."

"Dr. D. S. Henry and Mrs. Henry and their two children, with Mrs. W. C. Dodson, of Paris, motored over to Oil Springs, where they will spend a week or more."

"Miss Grace Donaldson, of the First National Bank, of Paris, is spending her vacation at Oil Springs. Her kindly interest in everything and everybody has made her many friends and admirers."

"The 'tacky' party was followed by a more wedding. The bride was Miss Grace Donaldson, of Paris, and the groom was L. Hulse, of Clark county. The wedding was interrupted by the demand of the justice to be kissed by the bride. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Sally A. Whaley, of Paris, which seemed to those present to be a very appropriate tribute to this lovely and popular young lady."

"Recent guests from Paris were: Mr. John Wiggins, Mr. Frank Buchanan, Mr. Forrest Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bryan, Mrs. S. S. Ardery, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Redmon, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wallen, and Dr. P. H. Uppington."

Among the recent arrivals at Crab Orchard Springs were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin, Fred Batterson and Owen Gibson, of Paris.

TUBERCULOSIS EXHIBIT.

Miss Mabel Robbins, County Superintendent of Schools, has arranged for co-operation with the State Tuberculosis Commission at the institute to-day. Mr. James P. Faulkner, who has done remarkable educational work in Kentucky for years, will speak before the institute at 1:30 p.m. to-day on "Health by Indirection." The general public is invited to hear him.

The refitted Health Exhibit car will be open all this afternoon at the railroad station, the exhibits being explained by Mr. Robert Faulkner and Mrs. Harriett P. Minaker, the Paris visiting nurse. From this attractive and interesting display of pictures, models and selective devices the essential facts about consumption and other preventable diseases may be learned.

Mr. Roy L. French, Secretary of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission, was in Paris, Friday, to arrange for a health talk before the institute to-day, and to inspect the work of Mrs. Minaker, the visiting nurse, who was brought to Paris on Mr. French's recommendation.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Dan Roche, Jr., attempted suicide yesterday afternoon in the Lykins restaurant on Tenth street by shooting himself with a .32 caliber revolver. The bullet passed through the muscles of the upper chest, inflicting a painful though not dangerous wound. He will be out in a day or so. Young Rouche had been employed in the Lykins restaurant for some time. No reason for the attempt was assigned. He was taken to the Massie Memorial Hospital where his wounds were dressed.

go slow, you'll go down there some day and never come back alive. And the prophecy came true on last Saturday morning. It came to my mind with startling force as soon as I heard of the affair at the jail."

Another story that is told in connection with the earlier happenings of the night. It is related that the negro Johnson, in company with an itinerant umbrella mender, visited a saloon in the neighborhood of the L. & N. depot, where the umbrella mender was given a half-pint bottle of Chickin Cock Whisky in exchange for the work he did on an umbrella. The man later on in the night came into the saloon and informed the porter that the negro had knocked him down and robbed him of his pocket book, two dollars in money and his whisky. Johnson disappeared, and the half-pint bottle that was found on the porch of the Meade home bore a Chickin Cock label.

Coroner Rudolph Davis impanelled a jury and held an inquest at the court house yesterday morning. After hearing the testimony of witnesses the jury rendered the following verdict:

"We, the jury, find that E. R. Houston came to his death from pistol shot by the hand of Jos. Farris, Jailer of Bourbon County, in the discharge of his duty in protecting a prisoner from mob violence and we find that he was perfectly justified in the shooting."

War News From Various Sources of the Stricken Continent

LONDON, ENGLAND, Aug. 30.—A Paris dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says:

"A German aviator flew over Paris this afternoon and dropped five bombs which fell in the most populous quarter of the city. In one case two women were wounded. One bomb flew in front of the shop of a baker and wine merchant in the Rue Alibouy, two on the Quai De Valmy, one of which did not explode, while the other struck the wall of the Night Refuge behind St. Mary's Hospital. Two others dropped in the Rue Ricard and the Rue Marcin, neither of which exploded. The aviator, who was Lieutenant Von Heidissen, dropped manifestos on which was written: 'The German army is at the gates of Paris. You can do nothing but surrender.'

ANTHENS, Aug. 28.—It is stated on good authority that the Italian Government has ordered the general staff to be ready for action within the next few days. Bulgarian vandals have entered Servian territory at Strumica and destroyed part of a railway. Another band entered Doryan and destroyed two villages.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Rome says that a dispatch received from Vienna states that Austria has declared war on Belgium. The American Minister in Belgium has been asked to take charge of Austrian interests there.

PARISIANS IN VENICE.

In a letter to Mrs. Swift Champ, dated Venice, Aug. 4, Mrs. Jas. Thompson stated that their party had just begun to hear of the war in Europe and a few days later they began to feel its effects. She said that, as they could not read the papers or understand the language they were practically isolated from the world, and could get no tidings of the condition of affairs on the Continent. What news they could get was very meager. They were hemmed in with very poor prospects of getting out. The situation, as she expressed it, was terrible. In a previous letter Mr. Thompson stated their party would stay on, even though others were leaving, and Mrs. Thompson in her letter stated "now they had stayed too long and just couldn't get away." No further detail were given.

NEW DRUG FIRM.

A new firm, consisting of Mr. Fayette Ardery and Mr. Sidney B. Ardery, Jr., and known as the Ardery Drug Co., will take over the stock and fixtures of the Clarke & Co. store, Saturday, Sept. 5th, and will continue the business at this old established stand.

The Clarke & Co. stock of goods has been pronounced one of the most complete and up-to-date drug stores in Central Kentucky, while the old management has won an enviable reputation for reliability and safe, conservative business principles.

The new management will endeavor to conduct the business along the same lines, and merit the good will so long accorded Clarke & Co. Dr. P. H. Uppington, who for the past eleven years, has worked with Dr. Clarke, as pharmacist, has contracted with the new firm and will be in charge of the prescription department, guarantees to the public, the same accurate and efficient service.

The stock of sundries will be kept up to its old standard of variety and completeness, there being a few lines that will be improved and enlarged.

The Ardery Drug Co. extends to the public in general, a cordial invitation to visit this store, and inspect the goods and the service.

VITAL FORCE

Disease germs are on every hand. They are in the very air we breathe. A system "run down" is a prey for them. One must have vital force to withstand them. Vital force depends on digestion—on whether or not food nourishes—on the quality of blood coursing through the body.

Cincinnati Woman Has Invented Decided Improvement On Present Instrument.

A woman inventor in Cincinnati, Mrs. Katherine Nichols, has designed an improvement on the present telephone instrument, which she declares will be a boon. "There are several disadvantages in the present equipment," Mrs. Nichols said. "One has to hold several pounds of brass and rubber while using the 'hone, when it could just as well be a simple contrivance, weighing only a few ounces." Mrs. Nichols' invention is a combination of a pair of flexible tubes, each carrying an improved ear piece and connected with a T joint, which holds the transmitter. The arrangement is such that when one holds the ear piece in position the transmitter is a few inches from the lips. This insures talking directly into the transmitter, whether one turns the head or not. The transmitter is a double one, increasing the volume of sound, and a spring is so arranged that the mere picking up of the instrument throws the line into connection and calles the exchange. The use of two ear pieces excludes outside sounds while one is listening, and this feature is further improved by another invention of Mrs. Nichols—a cap for the ear pieces—which, it is said, physicians recommend as taking much of the strain of listening off the delicate membrane of the ear.

Mrs. Nichols has shown her invention to several telephone experts, who have spoken in high praise of it.

STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

The Forty-ninth State Convention of the Kentucky Sunday School Association will meet in Lexington, October 20-22. A splendid program is being arranged, there will be some of the best speakers in the Sunday School work, music by a great choir, conferences on all departments of Sunday School activities. There are about four thousand Sunday School in Kentucky and every one of these is entitled to send delegates. No money can be better spent than be coming to such a gathering and meeting the people who are doing the best things for the uplift of Kentucky. Lexington is near the center of the State and is easily reached and, outside of the convention, has many attractions for visitors. Any one who is interested in making a greater and better Kentucky can become a delegate. For particulars, write to the Kentucky Sunday School Association, 712 Louisville Trust Building, Louisville, Ky.

EVOLUTION IN WRITING.

The Danville Messenger thinks simplified spelling has worked very well, but remarks that "What the newspaper men and compositors want is simplified writing." The newspapers do run up against some tough proposition, but there is much less that sort of thing than there used to be. Type-writing is increasing enormously. A few years hence machine writing will be universal and it will not be necessary for a man to do much work with pen and ink or pencil. In fact it will hardly be necessary for the kids at school to waste much time on penmanship. Now if somebody will only invent a spelling machine to accompany every typewriter, the epistolary troubles of the human family will be brought down to the irreducible minimum.—Winchester Sun.

Thy Fellow Man.

Carve your name on hearts, and not on marble.—Charles Spurgeon.

MR. LEWIS A. RIFFLE tells his experience with coughs and colds that lead to nervousness and debility.

Colds are often aggravated during the Summer because inactive bowels and a stomach out of order are prime causes in keeping a cold from getting well.

Pe-ru-na has very beneficial laxative qualities that neutralize such conditions. Its tonic ingredients tone up the system, and thus invigorate the stomach's functions to normal activity.

Mr. Riffle's experience is especially interesting at this time of the year because it shows the close relationship there is between a nervous breakdown and a neglected cold.

Pe-ru-na should be kept in the home at all times, that a cold upon its first appearance may be treated promptly and successfully. This often saves money and time, and what is more important, a great deal of vitality.

Mr. Riffle, of 755 Gauthier Ave., Portland, Ore., writes: "I have found Pe-ru-na a most remarkable medicine for building up the system and for curing coughs and colds."

"I took it for four weeks a few months ago when I was all run down, nervous and debilitated, and it quickly restored my health.

"I always keep it on hand, as a few doses will cure a cold if taken in time."

People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Pe-ru-na Tablets.

GOOD TASTE IN CONSERVATIVE MOURNING MODELS.

White Mourning a Late Innovation for Young People.

SIRE SATIN FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

NEW YORK, Aug. 31. In mourning, simplicity is the keynote of good taste. The wardrobe should be chosen for conservative good style and inconspicuousness.

A mourning top-coat of heavy black cloth with a soft dull finish made into one of the smart loose cape coats so much the rage, is most desirable. The Oxford effects may be used for general wear. For suits, gaberdine or serge with a dull finish is serviceable and smart. Pure white or dull black linings should be used.

Soft faille silk with a dull luster is used for the more dressy type of suit. Ripple silk, which is a heavy variety of Canton silk, may be used, also, for this type of costume.

Cire Crepe Trimmed with Bands of Corded Silk.

For an afternoon dress crepe de Chine is most attractive and distinctive. One charming feature of this silk is that it may be self-trimmed, and, if anything, this enhances its beauty. All costumes worn for first mourning may be combined with crepe. But crepe should be used sparingly, as too much is poor taste. From among a number of mourning dresses I picked out models for my illustrations which are conservative and stylish, both showing the attractive use of crepe and dull silk as a trimming.

The first is dull cire satin. At the lower edge of the long tunic is a wide band of corded silk cut on the bias. This same silk is used to edge the V-shaped opening of the overwaist, front and back. A long slender guimpe of net is worn with this dress whose most noticeable feature is its stiffly standing frill of lace at the neck. The plain hat is of cire satin with trimming of the colored silk and of gathered maline.

Voile and net are two materials widely used for Summer and Fall dresses and for mourning, when variety is limited, it is very smart. My second illustration shows a dress of black voile. The shirt with triple circular ruffles has a band of crepe edging each ruffle. The waist is made with kimono-cut sleeves having a circular cuff which is also trimmed with a band of crepe as is the front of the voile waist. The chemisette and collar are of black net over white and hemstitched. A wide girdle of crepe which buttons down the front completes the costume.

A charming dress of net is made with a waist in bolero effect. Around the edges of this bolero, which extends to the shoulder and underarm seams only, is a ball fringe of dull black wooden beads. In the corners of the bolero are beaded motifs in very fine dull black beads.

Chiffon cloth is widely used for mourning waists and lends itself charmingly to the simple trimming of hand run tucks and simple trimming of hand run simple shirrings. Black point-d'esprit is combined with net in many ways and makes a greater variety possible.

Dull satin with the waxed finish is used for waists as well as crepe de Chine and crepe chiffon. A waist of black crepe de Chine is made with a chemisette of net picot edged and trimmed with picot edged frills of the crepe de Chine.

Georgette crepe in black or white is used both for waists and for the soft clinging type of gown. It is charmingly trimmed with either faille, taffeta or dull satin.

All costumes worn for first mourning can be trimmed with crepe, and white crepe is smart when used at the neck for the collar or vest, and for the cuffs as well.

For young people all white is being used a great deal for mourning. It is not as depressing as black and yet it is just as much a badge of sorrow. All-white hats of lusterless taffeta are trimmed with white crepe flowers or a small, close-fitting hat of white has a large Empress Eugenie veil in white precisely following the black widow's veil of the same name. This style of veil is heavy and smothering for very hot weather, although it is a protection from kindly but curious eyes. It is a large hemmed square of crepe with one corner rounded out to fit the neck, finished with a frill of the same. It is fastened around the neck with the long point hanging down in front and is then thrown over the head and fastened securely to the hat with pins. It is unusually graceful and most becoming.

White chiffon cloth is used for the dressier dresses. I saw a charming one made of box-pleated chiffon cloth and the skirt had box-pleated tunic with a wide hem. Just above the hem was an inset insertion of point-d'esprit. This frock was remarkable for its charming inconspicuousness.

Sheer collars and cuffs of organdy are accessories which may be used. Hemstitched, or with hems fagoted, they give a finish and a dainty touch, which helps to take away the dreariness of all black.

Collars and cuffs of organdy have hems of black which are attached to the collar by machine hemstitching. The woman with a little ingenuity and time to spare can make many variations of these dainty accessories.

Handkerchiefs are shown with hems of black, either a half an inch or an inch wide. Some have a second border on the inside of black. It may be merely a pin stripe or it may be three-eighths of an inch.

A Mourning Gown of Conservative Styles in Voile and Crepe.

In mourning, very little jewelry is worn, and that must be the simplest of the simple. Pearls and dull jet are combined into artistic little pins and necklaces. Dull black enamel pins are also used.

Hems of ruffles and of dresses are hemstitched, or are finished with a picot edging, which is merely having a piece of the material hemstitched and then cut down the center of the hemstitching; this leaves a picot edging on either side.

Shoes should be worn of dull black kid. The low shoe should have a full kid buckle while for the high-heeled slipper a round, flat button of jet is correct.

Gloves, of course, are always black. Usually rather long, wrinkling about the wrist. Heavy black kid gloves are proper to wear with the severely tailored suit. Long black kid gloves are also worn when desired, but long suede gloves to wear with the costume are to be preferred.

Let Us Reason Together!

Abraham Lincoln, the true apostle of liberty and freedom, uttered these historic words:

"Whether or not the world would be vastly benefitted by a total and final banishment from it of all intoxicating drinks seems to me not now an open question."

The liquor business of today is infinitely more rotten than it was in Lincoln's time. Not one good thing can be said of the modern saloon by its champions.

Science condemns strong drink as a rank poison. A poison, whether taken in large or small quantities, produces evil results. Lincoln did not understand the nature of whiskey and other intoxicating drinks as well as we do today, but the following shows that he did observe some of the evil following its use.

".....the demon of intemperance ever seems to have delighted in sucking the blood of genius and of generosity. What one of us but can call to mind some relative, more promising than all his fellows, who has fallen a sacrifice to his rapacity?

"He seems to have gone forth like the Egyptian angel of death, commissioned to slay, if not the first, the fairest born, of every family."

"Shall he now be arrested in his desolating career? In that arrest, all can give aid; and who shall be excused that can, and will not?"

Again he says:

"The liquor traffic is a cancer in society. There must be no more attempts to regulate it. It must be eradicated; not a root must be left behind."

The U. S. Supreme Court rendered this opinion:

"There is no inherent right in a citizen to sell intoxicating liquors by retail. It is not a privilege of a State or of a citizen of the United States."

Is it right to vote for a thing which no decent man can defend?

LET REASON REIGN! Vote Against the Saloon!

The Bourbon News

Established 1881-32 Years of Continuous Publication.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS

Since the beginning of the European war the cost of print paper, linotype metal, printing inks, platters, cuts, and even to the small item of paste used in a commercial way in the production of printed matter, has been increased from the manufacturer to the consumer, the advance in some cases as high as 100 per cent. The printing fraternity has borne this increase uncomplainingly, because they had no recourse. Now they are beginning to advance their advertising rates.

The News, in view of existing circumstances, feels compelled to advance its advertising rates to meet the increased cost of production. Our printing plant has been greatly improved in the past year or two by the addition of expensive printing machinery and other improvements have been essential to the up-to-date plant, and our subscription list has been doubled.

The cost of advertising has already been increased to foreign advertisers, and from now on will go into effect on long time contracts that have been going for years at old rates.

This increase will be on display advertisements only, and will not be made to apply to local advertising. Our rates on reading notices, etc., will remain the same.

We feel sure the advertising public will understand and appreciate our position.

DEATHS.

CONWAY.

—Mr. John W. Conway, aged about sixty-one years, died at his home on the farm of Mrs. Nellie S. Highland, near Paris, Friday morning at four o'clock, from heart disease, following a few hours illness.

Mr. Conway had been enjoying his usual good health, and on Thursday was at work in the field on his place. At the supper hour he partook of a hearty meal and retired early. About midnight he was taken suddenly sick at the stomach which is thought to have affected his heart, and he passed away a few hours later.

Deceased was a well known farmer, and formerly was a member of the Bourbon Fiscal Court from the Rudles Mills precinct. He is survived by his widow, who was formerly Miss Mary Bettie Duvall, of Bourbon, and five children, Messrs. Henry C. Conway and Raymond Conway, of Bourbon; William Conway, of Dayton, O.; James Conway, of Missouri, and Mrs. Hattie Conway Bell, of Millersburg.

MAPPIN.

—Mrs. Julie Mappin, 63 years of age, wife of W. H. Mappin, died at the residence of her niece, Mrs. Chas. Skillman, 448 Rose Lane, Lexington, Sunday. Mrs. Mappin was the daughter of George L. Redmon, and was born and reared in Bourbon County.

She is survived by her husband and two children, Geo. L. Mappin, of Lexington, and Mrs. Edwin Wyatt, of Chicago. The funeral services were held at the residence yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock conducted by Rev. Mark Collis, of the Broadway Christian Church, of which she was a faithful member. The body was brought to Paris on a special interurban car and burial took place in the family lot in the Paris cemetery, yesterday afternoon. The pall-bearers were Joe Redmon, Claude Redmon, Tom Redmon, Sol Redmon, Cassell Redmon and Harry James.

BIRTHS.

—Born—On Saturday morning, to the wife of Mr. Wm. Metzger, in Hwy Division, a daughter.

—Born, at the Massie Memorial Hospital, on last Thursday, to the wife of Samuel Clay, a daughter.

MORGAN'S MEN TO MEET TO-DAY

The Morgan's Men Association, which will meet at Olympian Springs to-day for a three-day reunion, probably will be attended by the largest number of veterans in the history of the association, according to a letter received from Horace M. Taylor, of Carlisle, successor of the lamented Green R. Keller, as secretary of the association. The rate on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway from Lexington is $2.25 for the round trip and the automobile fare from Olympia Station to the hotel has been reduced to seventy-five cents as a concession to the Confederates who will attend.

Trains leave Lexington for Olympian Springs daily at 7:30, 11:45 and 3:45 p. m. Secretary Taylor asks all to register as soon as they arrive at the hotel, giving their command and their present postoffice addresses.

UNION SERVICES.

The Paris Epworth League and the Christian Endeavor Society met in a union service at the Christian church Sunday night, with Mr. Thos. Conner as leader for the evening. The subject discussed was "How and Why to Abolish War."

Special music had been arranged by the Endeavors, which consisted of solos by Mrs. B. R. Dickerson, Miss Mary Hayden and Prof. A. L. Boatright. All the songs were accompanied by the Christian Endeavor orchestra.

Those participating in the discussion of the subject were: Miss Helen Hutchcraft, Messrs. Dennis Snapp, J. W. Brown and Prof. Boatright. About 100 were present.

WILL SAVE MONEY.

Regardless of conditions, text-books belonging to the children in the public schools of Kentucky will be traded to the book companies at the contract price. As a result this will save the parents thousand of dollars. Superintendent Hamlett has decided that under the Act of 1914 all publishers will be required to take up and exchange books regardless of condition, provided they are of the same grade. The ruling was made to correct an impression that gone out that such books offered in exchange would have to be in good condition. Hamlett's interpretation of the law is that the "good condition" clause applies only to such books as are held by the dealers on their shelves, which, of course, will be taken up by the contractors at the original net prices.

"HEALTH BY INDIRECTNESS."

James P. Faulkner, who has been engaged in public health work for several years, will speak on "Health by Indirection," before the Bourbon County Teachers' Association, at the court house, this afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock.

Mr. Faulkner will represent the State Tuberculosis Commission, and the remodeled exhibit car of the commission will be in Paris at the L. & N. passenger station this afternoon free to the public, who through the interesting exhibits displayed can learn many important things about the cause, cure and prevention of contagious diseases, especially tuberculosis.

Mrs. Harriett P. Minaker, the visiting nurse employed by the county, will assist in explaining the exhibits.

(7-1f) A. F. WHEELER & CO.

PARIS VS. LEXINGTON.

For some reason (or lack of reason) there has gone abroad in Paris and Bourbon County the impression that Lexington will vote "dry" in the coming election on September 28th. That this idea is erroneous is practically proven by the recent Congressional election when J. C. Cantrill, known as the liquor candidate, defeated Claude M. Thomas, the dry candidate in EVERY precinct in Fayette County. A prominent resident of Lexington, in a conversation with a Paris man a few days ago, declared that Lexington would go wet beyond a doubt, and added that it was admitted there by some of the advocates of Prohibition.

Accepting it as true that Lexington will vote wet, it would be impossible to conceive the amount of revenue which will drip into the coffers of that city from Bourbon County if this country should go dry. With Lexington wet and Paris dry, which up to now has been able to compete so successfully with Lexington in civic improvement, in financial enterprise and increase in population, would gradually become no more than a suburb of that city. Capitalists could never be induced to invest money in a town where the people were so asleep to their own interests as to voluntarily vote out of the principal sources of income.

Saloon license granted in Paris add the princely sum of $16,000 yearly to the city's revenue. Will the advocates of prohibition be willing to "put up" the additional taxes to supply the deficit in the city's treasury which they are so anxious to bring about? If not, from what source is the money to come?

—Whisky men in Lexington, it is understood, are doing much to create the false impression that Lexington will go dry in order to delude Paris and Bourbon County into voting dry, so that when in reality the Fayette capital polls its big wet majority, Paris and Bourbon County will be proven but dupes of Lexington's greed for increased revenue.

WEST VIRGINIA

Having Hard Times With Its New Dry Law.

—Speakeasies and bootleggers have made their appearance in West Virginia since the new State-wide prohibition law went into effect," remarked Theodore Stillwell, of Parkersburg, W. Va., at the Shoreham. "These illicit dealers in intoxicants are doing a thriving business, notwithstanding the persistent efforts of officials to enforce the new law. In the city of Wheeling, it is said liquor is sold freely, and the authorities admit their inability to stop it. In some of the counties raids have been made on many places. More than 800 bartenders who were thrown out of employment in Wheeling have announced that they will hold a mass meeting to protest against their inability to get work in other vocations. So far the State has lost in its attempt to convict offenders of violations of the law.

"The law is driving many out of the State. Hundreds of foreign miners in the Fairmont district are departing to other coal fields, and unless the exodus is checked mine officials say operations in that region will be seriously hampered." —Richmond, Va., Press-Dispatch.

WILL BE TAXED DIRECTLY.

"When we have national prohibition of the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors, as our prohibition friends proudly promise will soon be a reality, this vast sum for the support of the government will have to be raised from other sources, and then there will be weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth, if placed more directly upon the people." —Col. W. P. Walton, in Lexington Herald, August 26th.

A Word to the Farmers of Bourbon County.

The soil in Bourbon County is noted for producing the best grades of burley tobacco, which it yields in abundant crops.

This advantage has increased the value of farm lands upwards of one hundred per cent. during the last ten years.

The 8,500 acres in tobacco culture in Bourbon County now produces an annual crop which is valued at $1,000,000.

Leading authorities have proven by experiments that tobacco culture nets the farmer the greatest income per acre.

The Virginia Prohibitionists have served notice on the tobacco interests that after they wipe out the saloons and the liquor traffic, they will wipe out, what they call the "tobacco evil."

What applies to Virginia as a tobacco manufacturing center ought to apply to Kentucky as a tobacco producing center.

Some of the leading reformers in Kentucky have already declared, that after they succeed in wiping out saloons, they will go after the legislature for laws that will prohibit the sale of tobacco in any form.

This will eventually wipe out a market for the enormous tobacco product of the farmers of Bourbon County, and our farmers will be forced to raise other and less profitable crops.

Can the farmers get the same return for their labor and investment if they are forced to quit tobacco culture for other crops?

Leading authorities on farming say they can not.

Can the farmer who has bought his farm on time payments, intending to pay it off on his returns from tobacco, meet his obligations if he is forced to go into less profitable farming?

Will this uncall for hardship which the reformer intends to saddle on the farmer not have a tendency to discourage farming and depreciate the value of farm lands in Kentucky and Bourbon County.

The reformers are now asking the farmers to help destroy the liquor traffic in Bourbon County and turn the tide of business from Paris to Lexington.

If they succeed they will next call on the voters of Bourbon County to help prohibit the sale of tobacco and destroy a market for our principal product.

Can our farmers afford to help the reformers destroy a business which now pays — per cent. of the taxes of Bourbon County and assume the additional burden of taxation for themselves?

After the liquor traffic is destroyed, they will go after tobacco, what next?

A word to the wise ought to be sufficient.

—A delightful barn dance was given Wednesday evening by a number of young men of the Hutchison precinct in the barn of Mr. Letcher Weathers, near Clintonville. About one hundred and fifty guests were present and all had a most enjoyable time.

—Miss Duane Kiely and friend
Miss Harrington, of Covington, spent Sunday in Paris, the much enjoyed guests of Mrs. E. C. Kiely and family on Main street. The young ladies returned home Sunday night, much to the regret of relatives and admiring friends.

—The following guests were present at a family reunion held at the residence of Dr. J. T. Brown, in this city, Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Thos.
McClelland, of Porto Rico; Dr. and Mrs. O. F. Brown, and son, of Avon, and Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Troutman,
Mrs. Lizzie Toph and son and Miss Carrie Brown, of Lexington.

—The following note is from Olymp-ian Springs: "The Embry cottages near by have been occupied this summer by the well-known Embry family, all of whom have been pleasant companions to the guests of the hotel.
Miss Elizabeth Embry, Mr. and Mrs.
Wallace Embry, Mr. and Mrs. Albert
Bridges and Mr. and Mrs. Marion
Bridges, from Mt. Sterling, Cynthiana and Paris, have occupied them.
Mrs. Nannie Embry Moore has also been with them."

—Miss Virginia Cook, of Paris, was a guest at the dance given by the Barge Club on the Kentucky River, near Frankfort, Tuesday evening.

LUKE McLUKE SAYS

(Cincinnati-Enquirer.)
There is a bright side to everything. When a man knows it all it doesn't take him long to tell it.

The corsetless fad is all to the good. It conserves the wobble and it does away with the ridge that used to stick out in the rear of the shirt.

The Stork is an awful fool in some ways. He always picks out some poor mutt who can't support two children and leave him about a dozen kids.

Isn't it strange that poor people do not need as many surgical operations as wealthy folk?

When a woman has a face like a horse she always wonders why the milliners select such unbecoming styles in hats every season.

Love will stand for a whole lot. But when a woman leaves her hair and her teeth and her complexion on the bedroom dresser and slops around the house in a greasy wrapper, Love goes out and gets soused.

As long as a woman knows that her bungalow apron is fastened in the rear she doesn't care whether you can see through it or not.

Most men have to suffer for their crimes. But Edison invented the phonograph and he is as deaf as a post.

The old-fashioned man who used to wait around for years for some one to die so he could get a promotion, now has a son who does undertaking as a side issue.

Mother does a lot of indignating because Sugar has gone up two cents per pound. But Father can't see anything to worry about as long as Beer is only Five Indians per copy.

There is one good feature about the closed Sunday. A man can get on a street car at midnight on Saturday and get a cheap jag by merely breathing the atmosphere around him.

The British Suffragettes pad their clothes and call it Armor. Over here they call it Hips and Busts.

War may be Hell. But it has some good points. It has crowded Vincent Astor and his bride into the discord.

And how is a fellow going to get interested in the war news in his paper when he is sitting in a Summer street car and the girl in front of him is wearing a transparent waist and an X-Ray corset cover that doesn't come any higher than the middle of her back? A 180-pound trunk anywhere a strange girl asks him to lug it.

APPOINTEES WORRY

Nominees of President Have to Run Gauntlet.

Wilson Having More Trouble in This Respect Than Any of His Recent Predecessors—Causes Many for This Condition.

Washington, D. C.—President Wilson is having more trouble over his appointees to office than any of his recent predecessors. In spite of the personal care he exercises in choosing men for high positions, the disposition even among the Democrats in congress to look askance at a new nominee for office has come to be a habit.

There are several causes underlying this attitude of congress. They may be summed up as follows:

1. Several of the old line Democrats have always believed that the senate should exercise its constitutional prerogative of "advising" the president on nominations as well as "consenting" to them.

2. Many of the Democrats, young and old, have proclaimed so fiercely under Republican administrations against "big business" that they cannot consistently vote for a man from that field of action for any office.

3. Some senators have a permanent suspicion against any man nominated for office or at the suggestion of some of the cabinet officers.

4. Any man who has written a book or a newspaper article must submit to a critical review of his works before passing muster for office.

5. The Republicans, in general, recalling the fact that the Democrats in the senate held up President Taft's nominations through an entire session of congress, to save the places for themselves, and, in many instances, having concrete objections to some of the nominees, are ready to help out any Democrat who wishes to make trouble over any of President Wilson's nominations.

There seems to be no limit these days to the investigating activities of the congressional committees. If a man has the temerity to accept from the president an offer of a public office he may as well prepare at once to come to Washington, if the office is big enough, and lay bare his whole life to some sort of congressional investigating body.

Some members do not hesitate to say that congress is rapidly degenerating into a society of gossips. They believe that the limits of decency have been overstepped in some cases and that the quickest and best way to drive men of capacity and ability out of public office is to force them to submit to the inquisitorial preliminary which now has become a requisite to a mere favorable report for a nomination.

On the other side are many eminent senators who assert that there is ample justification at this time for a careful scrutiny not only of nominations for office, but of legislation as well. They point out that congress is amending so many of the important fundamental laws of the land that it becomes congress to see that the administration of these laws is intrusted to men of proper qualifications, who will not play politics or serve special interests.

In part, at least, the senators are not wholly responsible for the situation. Anybody who is intimate enough with them to see their correspondence from home will find out that the "knockers" are not all dead yet. It is to be noted that the American voters who take the trouble to air their views to their congressmen are not only becoming more numerous but more cocksure of the finality of their own opinions.

Senators and representatives who are to be candidates at the coming elections have to face this hounding, and it is in this sort of atmosphere through which the nominations and legislative suggestions of President Wilson have to pass.

CHURCH STEEPLE A BEE HIVE

Steepiejack Gets 75 Pounds of Honey From Belfry of Georgia Town Baptist Church.

Dawson, Ga.—For several years a large swarm of bees has made its home in the steeple of the First Baptist church of this city, and has been industriously storing up much honey in this improvised hive.

Recently it was determined to take this honey, and the services of a steepiejack were engaged for the undertaking. He ascended the tall steeple and located the hive and took from it about 75 pounds of honey. The pastor of the church, the sexton and others were liberally supplied.

Solve Servant Problem.

Maplewood, N. J.—Working on the theory that residents could not hold their servants because the town lacked amusements, the authorities have opened a motion picture theater and show pictures each night. Mistresses supply their servants with monthly tickets.

Three-Dollar Nugget in Chick's Crop. Baker, Ore.—A nugget worth $3 was taken from the crop of a chicken sent to Baker from the Burnt River country. W. F. Weeks, who paid $1.25 for two chickens, was the lucky purchaser, who got not only his dinner for nothing, but a bonus in addition.

GERMANS FLEE BEFORE THE CZAR'S MEN.

ALLIES HOLDING KAISER'S MEN BACK.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—While Paris is actively preparing for possible siege, the War Office insists that the French lines of defense are holding fast.

It is admitted the Germans have forced the gap near Longwy and are pouring regiments into France at that point.

The bridges across the Meuse have been destroyed and the French are strongly entrenched from Verdun to Sedan with an enormous amount of artillery massed in the trenches, ready to check the advance.

The British, supported by strong detachments of French, are holding the northern positions, with Cambrai as the base, fronting on the famous gap of Treves, through which the main German army is moving.

The French cavalry forces are reported to have frustrated the attempt of the Germans to raid the Department of Pas De Calais and to have driven the Uhlan invaders from Arras.

There is grave apprehension in the city. It is admitted the French resistance is being subjected to the supreme test, and that if the lines do not hold, Paris may be besieged.

AMERICANS ADVISED TO COME HOME.

WASHINGTON, August 28.—Two serious developments in the European war situation, so far as the United States is concerned, arose here Thursday.

Secretary Bryan announced to the representatives of European Powers that the armored cruiser North Carolina was to be sent to Turkey with gold for stranded Americans, who, it has been reported, were in danger of being massacred by the Mussulmans. Another announcement, in the form of an order which was cabled to foreign Ambassadors, urged all Americans to leave Europe without delay.

While the North Carolina goes on a mission of financial relief, her presence in Turkish waters is intended to have a salutary effect with respect to the treatment of Christians and foreigners generally residents of the Ottoman Empire.

Before taking this step the United States took precautions to sound the Powers of Europe as to whether they would object to the sending of an American warship to Europe. In view of the extreme tension which prevails at Constantinople, and the probability that Turkey soon will be drawn into the European conflict, the American Government desires to make plain that its purpose in sending the ship is in no way political, but designed only to aid and protect Americans.

KAISER WILHELM DER GROSSE SUNK BY A BRITISH CRUISER.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse has been sunk off the west coast of Africa by the British cruiser Highflyer.

Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, announced the sinking of the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse in the House of Commons to-day. He said:

"The Admiralty has just received intelligence that the German armed merchant cruiser Kaiser Der Grosse, armed with four-inch guns, has been sunk by H. M. S. Highflyer off the west coast of Africa.

"This is the vessel which has been interfering with traffic between this country and the cape, and is one of the very few German armed auxiliary cruisers which succeeded in getting to sea. The survivors were landed before the vessel sank. The Highflyer had one killed and five wounded."

The Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse was 626 feet long with a beam of 66 feet. It was on this vessel that the late Mayor Gaynor, of New York, was shot as he was about to sail for Europe in August, 1910.

WAR AGAINST BELGIUM, DECLARED BY AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, (Via London), Aug. 28.—Austria to-day declared war on Belgium. The Belgian Ambassador was handed his passports at the Foreign Office, all diplomatic relations broken and the way cleared for Austrian troops joining the Germans in the operations on Belgian soil if necessary.

Until to-day Belgium was the only one of the allied Powers at war only with Germany.

GERMANS CLAIM ALLIES' ARMY IS SURROUNDED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—That the French army has been divided and part of it is now practically surrounded by the Germans, was the announcement made by the German Embassy to-day.

"As a result of the recent encounter," one of the wireless messages, dated at Berlin to-day, said, "the French and English armies on the Sambre and Meuse Rivers have been surrounded by German troops on all sides. The French east army was partly driven to the south."

"This prevented communication between the French east and north armies, while all the German armies are in contact from Cambrai to upper Alsace."

POTTS AT IT AGAIN.

The News is in receipt of a copy of the Princeton Press, published at Princeton, Va., on which a subscription contest is being conducted by Mr. W. C. Potts, of Grand Rapids, Mich., who conducted a similar contest on the Bourbon News some years ago.

Most of us have little trouble following the Biblical admonition against laying up treasures here on earth.

JUST IN TIME

Some Paris People May Wait Till It's Too Late.

Don't wait until too late.
Be sure to be in time.
Just in time with kidney ills.
Means curing the backache, the dizziness, the urinary disorders.
That so often come with kidney troubles.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for this very purpose.

Here is testimony to prove their merit.

Mrs. B. F. Ball, 718 Lancaster St., Lexington, Ky., says: "One of our family was sick for three months from kidney trouble and a lame back. He had sharp pains in his back and was so lame and sore that he couldn't turn in bed without help. His limbs ached day and night and swelled badly. His head ached and he often got dizzy. He was irritable and had trouble from irregular passages of the kidney secretions. If the secretions stood for a little while, there was a dark sediment deposited. He doctor ed and tried all kinds of kidney remedies, but nothing helped him until he used Doan's Kidney Pills. Three boxes drove away the troubles."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Ball recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

GETTING MONOTONOUS.

"Carnivals in a way are very good," says the Winchester Sun, "but they are getting entirely too numerous and are becoming monotonous." That's just what the News has been saying.

The carnivals are pretty much alike, only some of them are worse than others. Central Kentucky has been pretty thoroughly worked by these aggregations. There are better and more wholesome amusements. No body gets much value for the money spent in these carnival attractions. For the most part the shows are poor, and the money that is spent in patronizing them could be spent to better purpose in a thousand different ways.

The News' editorial in its last issue occasioned very favorable comment, and a good deal of it from some most unexpected quarters, and is being widely copied by the newspapers throughout Central Kentucky.

And we appreciate the compliment.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Two-thirds of the people of Paris use hydrant water for drinking purposes. The less water in Stoner the greater the probability of pollution. Do not use it extravagantly. It is better to sacrifice the beauty of the lawn or the fruitfulness of the garden than to chance a human life.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

THE LAST DANCE.

Youth and beauty predominated in the assembly that gathered at the Masonic Temple, (Elks' Hall) Friday night to participate in the pleasures of the last subscription dance of the season. These entertainments, which have been the most notable of any ever given by the younger society element of Paris, are now interrupted by the spectre of "school days," which will take most of the dancers back to book and studies.

The dance, which was promoted by Messrs. Ireland Davis and Lucien Arnsparger, was a dainty affair, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The hall was beautifully decorated in green, white and tango yellow, long ropes of Southern smilax draped from the chandeliers leading their tones to the color scheme. The famous Wright's Saxaphone Trio from Columbus, O., stationed in the balcony, furnished dance music that couldn't be resisted, and from 9:30 to 4, with an intermission from 12 to 1, nimble feet went through the mazes of popular dances to the silent accompaniment of laughing eyes and happy hearts. At midnight a luncheon, consisting of old ham, chicken salad, beaten biscuits, cheese and nut sandwiches, pickles and coffee, was served.

Messrs. Davis and Arnsparger, now known as "Premier Dance Promoters," contributed largely to the pleasures and success of the event, as indeed, they have all others, and the guests of the evening were warm in their praise.

The following guests were present and participate in the pleasures of the evening:

Misses Cornelia Blackburn, Mary Nell Finnell, Frances Finnell, Frances Luke, (Georgetown); Cicely Bohon, (Versailles); Genevieve and Anne Molloy, Lillian Julian, Frances Milward, Heady Freeze, (Lexington); Elizabeth Brown, Elizabeth Hinton Elizabeth Crutcher, Elizabeth Steele, Anna Wilson, Anna Embry, Frances Champe, Nell Crutcher, Catherine Wilson, Matilda James, Carolyn Roseberry, Miss Smith, (Paris).

"POTASH & PERLMUTTER."

There is a laugh in every line of "Potash & Perlmutter," the famous comedy of the cloak and suit trade that manager A. H. Woods will present at the Paris Grand on Thursday, September 10th, direct from its second year at the Cohan Theatre, New York City. The three-act play is one long riot of humor—humor broken from time to time by pathos and suspense enough to form a strong dramatic contrast which holds the audience spell-bound until the very last word is spoken. Greggs' Imperial Orchestra of the Colonial Theatre, Lexington, will furnish the music.
